

A LIVELY SCRAMBLE FOR NEXT ENCAMPMENT

Rival Cities Make Strong Bids to Entertain Visitors.

SARATOGA IS IN THE VAN

San Francisco a Strong Rival, With Atlantic City, Pittsburg, and Louisville in the Running.

A lively contest is in prospect for next year's G. A. R. encampment. Several cities are making bids for the honor of entertaining the veterans of the civil war during the next annual meeting. Saratoga Springs has come forward with a guarantee of $50,000, and its request is being very carefully considered. The Business Men's Association of that city is announced to be behind the proposition.

The claims of the association are considered to be well founded, since the famous resort has exceptionally fine facilities for taking care of its visitors. The hotels being unsurpassed in point of appointment and luxury.

A magnificent convention hall, with a seating capacity for 6,000, is another feature in Saratoga's favor.

San Francisco is working very hard to secure the plum. The California delegates say that the G. A. R. has never marched on the Pacific slope and that it should do so before too many of the veterans pass away. An opinion prevails, however, that the city is too far West and the trip too expensive for a successful encampment.

The other cities which are making bids for the honor are Louisville, Atlantic City, Pittsburg and Los Angeles, Cal.

At the annual meeting tomorrow officers for the ensuing year will be chosen. Considerable interest centers in the choice of a commander-in-chief. There are four candidates prominently mentioned, Col. John L. McElroy, senior vice commander of the order and a District man, is regarded as a strong candidate. General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, is one of the chief competitors. The two other candidates are Gen. John C. Black, of Illinois, and Gen. Thomas J. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, adjutant general of the National Guard of that State.

MITCHELL WILL NOT ORDER MEN BACK TO WORK

(Continued from First Page.)

Brigade, will open headquarters at the United States Hotel here this afternoon.

SCURRILOUS PAPER FREELY CIRCULATED

Booklets and Journals Distributed Among the Miners.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Oct. 3.—Coincident with the coming of the soldiers to-day is the flooding of the region with scurrilous literature, attacking President Mitchell and his colleagues. It is in the shape of papers and circular letters, which are being handled with extreme caution, no one desiring to undertake open distribution. The journals aim to stir race prejudice and create dissension among the strikers, but the most of them forewarned of its coming. Anticipating the arrival of the troops during the night, curious people paraded the streets through this region until daybreak, but up to 9 a. m. the soldiers had not arrived. Eighteen thirty-ton cars of coal were sent out from Poy Potts colliery at Ashland last evening under heavy guard. There was slight disturbance, incident to its removal. The Third Battalion of the Eighth Regiment which had been policing the camp here, departed for Duryea this morning to join the rest of the regiment.

ADMINISTRATION HAS HOPES OF SETTLEMENT

President Understood to Have Requested J. P. Morgan to Influence the Operators.

There is a distinctly hopeful feeling in official circles this morning that a settlement of the coal strike will come from the efforts being made by the President.

"There is something doing, and I believe the miners will soon be back at work," was the confidently expressed opinion of one of the highest officers of the Treasury Department.

The President is not by any means confining his efforts to President Mitchell and the men's side of the controversy. He is exerting every influence he can to reach the operators also with the hope of wringing from them some concession, however slight, which would make it easier for Mitchell to comply with the President's desire that he order the men back to work. Either directly or indirectly, it is believed, he has requested J. P. Morgan among others to assist him in this undertaking.

Even if present negotiations result in no actual developments there will be no relaxation of the efforts to bring about the resumption of coal mining, which is now the supreme object. The President, it is believed, still has some cards in reserve, and whether or not any of them are trumps will not be known until they have been played.

Preparations to put the entire National Guard of Pennsylvania in the field are reported to be progressing rapidly. Governor Stone has sent an order to the War Department for 10,000 pairs of shoes and 2,500 blankets for immediate delivery. These supplies are on hand at New York and Philadelphia, and can be furnished at once. Governor Stone will get the goods at cost price, $2 per pair for shoes, and $3.50 per pair for the blankets.

PARADE OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

(Continued from First Page.)

cheeks as the blood bounded through the body. From beginning to end the parade was all its managers had hoped and its participants anticipated. There was neither hitch nor confusion. It was perfection from the point of view of the men who made it, as well as from that of those who watched and cheered the moving thousands.

Significant of the feelings of those who marched, as well as of thousands who watched the procession was the music played by the bands. "America" took on a new and sacred meaning. Hymns of religion and hymns of a patriotic character made time for the marching host. One of the bands, as it passed the reviewing stand, played "Onward, Christian Soldier," and another, with all the enthusiasm of its score of musicians, gave the grand old "Doxology."

The City a Fine Spectacle.

The spectacle that the city gave her guests in blue today was a fine one. The veterans marched through a blaze of fluttering flags and beneath yards and yards of bunting, with which the buildings along the line of march were decorated. Enormous flags swayed backward and forward over their heads, suspended over the line of march by ropes stretched from buildings on opposite sides of the streets. Thousands of people in the stands and along the sidewalks were supplied with small flags, which they waved exultantly above the heads of the throng in honor of the old soldiers. Mingled with these bright color displays were little patches of white, which represented the ladies in the crowds, who, not having flags to wave, drew forth their handkerchiefs and shook them loose in the breeze.

Each command of veterans had its colors, and while to many in the crowds all flags looked alike it could be seen that the eyes of the old soldiers in the reviewing stand glanced eagerly along the vista of marching men, past the handsome banners that the various posts and departments bore for something more precious than any new creation of silk and gold. They looked for the old battle flags, often nothing more than a little piece of faded red, wrapped closely around the staffs that had supported them through storms of shot and shell.

Glorious Faded Rags.

For the veterans, the sentiment of the day centered about these glorious, worn and faded rags. As each group of the battle flags of the various States passed the reviewing stand every veteran in it bared his head, gazed at the tattered colors, often with tears in his eyes, and remained uncovered until the flags had passed on down the street. Some of the historic bits of bunting were bound to their staffs with silken bands, so that they could be seen but could not flap in the wind, for they are too sacred to allow even a thread to be lost. Some of the flags were bound to their staffs with nets, so that they could be seen without being unfurled.

The reports of the various commanders to the commander-in-chief as to the number of men in line had not been made at 3 o'clock this afternoon, so it is not yet known exactly how many veterans participated in the parade. A careful estimate made by those in the reviewing stand, however, places the figures close to 30,000. This is nearly 3,000 more than marched at Cleveland one year ago, and is the greatest number who ever marched in a Grand Army parade.

GENERAL TORRANCE AND AIDES HEAD THE COLUMN

The parade was formed in nine distinctive divisions, each of which had its rendezvous on a separate street, all centering upon the Capitol. The head of the parade, consisting of the staff, aides, and escorts of the commander-in-chief, assembled on First Street, where they reported to Henry S. Peck, acting senior aide. The staff of the commander-in-chief in line of parade was composed of Philip H. Anschutz, chief bugler; William H. Lewis, sergeant; Charles States Cavalry, standard bearer; Charles Burrows, quartermaster; Silas H. Towler, adjutant general; W. J. McGrath, sergeant; United States Cavalry, color bearer; Brainerd H. Warner, assistant adjutant general; Henry M. Duffield, judge advocate general; Wilfred A. Wetherbee, inspector general; James O'Donnell, junior vice commander-in-chief; Thomas N. Boyle, chaplain-in-chief; William R. Thrall, surgeon general; John McElroy, senior vice commander-in-chief; executive committee Grand Army of the Republic, F. M. Sterett, Loren W. Collins, Edgar Allen, William H. Armstrong, S. C. James, Thomas W. Scott, Thomas G. Sample, Henry S. Peck, acting senior aide was in command of the aides of staff among whom were in line J. L. Caldwell, Va.; John R. King, Md.; Jacob Koons, Minnesota; James M. Briggs, Iowa; A. G. Fletcher, Nevada; O. E. Gail, Minnesota; Thomas Potts, Pennsylvania; L. M. Sturtevant, Minnesota; W. D. Forbes, Iowa; P. O. Lawrence, District of Columbia; Henry Pennington, Pa.; John J. Ford, New York; George W. Elliot, Pennsylvania; Charles Reese, Pennsylvania; F. H. Kennedy, Pennsylvania; J. T. Haskell, Ohio; O. H. Oldroyd, F. M. Taylor, Newton Perree, District of Columbia; George H. Siddons, Maryland; Dr. O. H. Mennet, Indiana; Charles A. Jackson, Massachusetts; W. D. Morris, Pa.; John H. White, Pennsylvania; T. E. Potter, Fred Kraft, Michigan; J. A. Trockmeyer, Ohio; William H. Barnes, S. J. Churchill, Kansas; V. F. McNeal, Connecticut; H. Gordon McKee, West Virginia; J. C. Couper, Minnesota; J. T. Holmes, Missouri; J. F. Tostevin, A. Meinholt, Wisconsin; Warren Vanderbilt, New York; S. W. McEldey, District of Columbia; A. M. Daniels, Minnesota; Thomas H. Barrett, Edison Lewis, H. H. Mooney, C. B. Morris, New York; Samuel L. Moore, Oregon; William Harding New York.

General Torrance, commander-in-chief, was mounted on a splendid black charger. His staff and aides, sixty-four in number, were also mounted, and attended in the regulation dress parade suits of the Grand Army of the Republic. There was one exception, however, Capt. Charles A. Jackson of Boston, one of the aides on the staff of the commander-in-chief, was mounted on a bicycle, the only man in the parade who appeared on a bicycle, outside of the police. Capt. Jackson wheeled all the way from Boston to this city for the encampment. During the Chicago World's Fair, Captain Jackson, who is a man of nearly sixty, made the trip to Chicago on the bicycle. He looks hale and hearty, and as he spun along the Avenue on his bicycle, which was decorated with two tiny American flags, he attracted attention everywhere.

The organization of the parade in detail was as follows:

Second Division.

Pennsylvania—H. P. Scott, commander State department; Soldiers' Orphans Industrial School Band, 32 pieces; Scotland Post, Col. Andrew Williams, chief of staff, with Capt. James Cooper, in command of aides to the commander. Old Buck Tails—Pennsylvania Reserves, unattached, 25 men. Meade Post, No. 1—Commander H. W. Hughes, vice commander, 150 men; Jennings Band; Third New Jersey Sons of Veterans, 28 members; H. John A. Kelt Post No. 228, Commander Remi Boetner, Vice Commander John Esslinger, 20 men. Gen. Alexander Hays Post, No. 3—Commander, James E. Porter; vice commander, George Sand; 75 men; United States Soldiers' Home Band, 22 members.

U. S. Grant Post, No. 5—Commander, Robert M. Barker; vice commander, C. Henry Cann; 150 men; five and drum corps of the Post Guard, 16 members. Camp No. 5, Sons of Veterans, of U. S. Grant Post, No. 5, Capt. A. C. Savage, First Lieut. W. R. McGirr, 50 men.

Ellis Post, No. 6, commander, Adam Sanderson; vice commander, C. H. Nichols, 30 men. John T. Griddle Post, No. 10, commander William Stueber; vice commander, Theodore Dubois, 120 and drum corps.

Zook Post, No. 11, commander, William J. Hesson; vice commander, George F. Barley; 40 men, Germania Band and camp of Sons of Veterans of the post, 15 men.

McLean Post, No. 16, commander, W. M. Eisenbauer; vice commander, A. Auman, 225 men; Ringold Band, of Reading, Pa.

Capt. George J. Lawrence Post, commander, William Kuehn; vice commander, W. H. Zimmerman, 50 men and drum corps.

H. J. Breckenridge Squad, 40 men, in command of W. T. Johnson. Cortland Saunders Post, No. 21, commander, William McElish; vice commander, D. W. Cogle, 60 men, Wyoming Band, 30 members.

Goodrich Post, No. 22, commander, W. M. Hedgens; vice commander, Ellis H. Best, 55 men.

Wildie Post, No. 25, commander, James Bray; vice commander, L. J. Smith, 30 men.

Indiana Post, No. 28, commander, John H. Hill; vice commander, Aleck Berties, 100 men.

Capt. D. P. Smith Post, No. 29, commander, A. E. Wakefield; vice commander, John G. Luther, 20 men.

George A. McCall Post, No. 31, Commander Thomas W. Taylor, vice commander William Wistie, 75 men.

O. H. Ripple Post, No. 34, Commander, William Miller; Vice Commander William Williams, 125 men.

Hancock Post, No. 225, Commander Nathan Wilson, Vice Commander J. Kanner, 16 men and drum corps.

Simpson Post, No. 44, Commander W. S. Lyle; Vice Commander Daniel Hetchler, 45 men.

Lieut. Josiah Colte, Post 45, Commander William Boye, Vice Commander Isaiah March, 45 men, and A. G. Curtin Camp, Sons of Veterans, with drum corps.

Brandywine Post, No. 54, Commander W. H. Davis, 25 men.

Col. John W. Moore Post, commander, James E. Magrow; vice commander, James W. Hall; 30 men.

Phillip R. Schuyler Post, No. 51, known as the Lambs, commander, Frank Heiman, 250 men; marine band, Philadelphia. Behind the commander was Miss Annie Ansell, who was leading a lamb, which will be presented to President Roosevelt by the organization.

Harrisburg Post, No. 58, commander, N. A. Waller; vice commander, I. D. Winters; 125 men, and Sons of Veterans of the post, carrying sixteen stands of battle flags.

Col. Sam Black Post, No. 59, commander, J. S. Friends; vice commander, George Smith; 30 men.

Gen. D. B. Birney Post 63, William F. Bimmer, commander; William Eberhard, vice commander; 120 men.

Lieut. S. C. Potts Post, 62, Adam Leak, commander, E. Zenph, 20 men.

Atkinson, commander; James H. Wilkins, vice commander; 60 men.

S. G. Timmons Post 116, H. S. Burnell, commander; Christian Burr, vice commander; 50 men.

McPherson Post 117, John Stoddard, commander; John Wherry, vice commander, 75 men, and McPherson Band from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Colonel Sulings Post, No. 173, commander, W. W. Trout; vice commander, John A. Fickhorn, 45 men.

J. J. Anderson Post, No. 70, commander, William Street, 15 men.

Robert Bryan Post, No. 80, commander, Samuel Jones; vice commander, Thomas P. Marble, 20 men and drum corps.

Hunter Post, No. 123, commander T. A. Cochran; vice commander, T. M. Anderson, 15 men.

Major Jenkins Post, No. 99, commander, S. E. Tromer; vice commander, W. Law, 80 men.

Colonel Dawson Post, No. 224, commander, J. J. Harrison; vice commander, H. F. Bailey; 40 men; Sandy Lake Band.

Sergeant Parker Post, No. 231, commander, W. H. Smith; vice commander, J. T. Smith; 100 men.

E. B. Young Post, No. 87, commander, Charles E. Akle; vice commander, Charles Rupert; 40 men.

Abe Patterson Post, No. 88, commander, Royal Grasco; 60 men.

Lieut. E. R. Geary Post No. 236, commander James Parr; vice commander, John C. Bach; 25 men.

Lancaster County Battalion, composed of eighteen posts, in command of Col. J. W. Youm and Adj. W. F. Hanbridge, aides, A. C. Leonard, S. B. Clipper, Harvey Seiple, and James Neimlow.

Lieut. D. H. Wilson Post, No. 134, commander, C. McCellan; vice commander, George Goshen; 20 men, led by the Henderson Drum Corps, of this city.

Burnside Post, No. 95, commander, Mungo Pennman; vice commander, Alfred Ayres; 30 men and drum corps.

Anna M. Ross Post, No. 94, commander, W. H. Green; vice commander, John M. Irwin; 125 men, William Linkin's American National Band, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Rose Guard, of Anna M. Ross Post, Capt. James Walker, 25 men.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 114—Commander, G. W. Butler; vice commander, Joseph Burnett; 120 men, with Nineteenth Regiment Band.

Henry Wilson Post, No. 129—Commander, A. Badden; vice commander, W. Hunsmeier; 20 men.

Ezra Griffith Post, 129—Commander and 60 men.

Lincoln Post, No. 140—Commander, W. J. Freeman; vice commander, J. N. Gaskins; 200 men and "Own Band," 25 pieces.

Commerster Post, No. 60—Commander, C. K. Harrison; vice commander, William Vanhoush; 120 men.

Major W. B. Mays Post, No. 220—Commander, Major George Charles Miller; vice commander, M. O. Taylor; 100 men; Fort Verano Band, 30 members.

Sharon Post, No. 254, commander, Fred Patterson, vice commander, Samuel Guyton, 75 men.

Lieut. William Allison Post, No. 195, commander, W. H. Pennel; vice commander, William Leedy, 25 men and drum corps. This post carried a battle flag which was in the Mexican war, and also in the civil war.

Farragut Naval Post, Philadelphia, commander, W. J. Morgan; vice commander, Andrew Smith; 400 men, and the Frankford Band, 25 members.

Jerry Jones Post, No. 541, commander, Capt. Frank Kiser; vice commander, J. Smith, 30 men, and Smithfield Band, 20 members.

Philip Gump Post, No. 550, commander Jeff Dye; vice commander, S. W. Gilmore; five men.

Capt. Joshua W. Sharp Post, No. 371, commander, Jacob Weiss, 25 men.

Major W. C. Lowry Post, No. 548, commander, W. P. Harpster; vice commander, Daniel Waltz, 20 men.

Houtzdale Post, No. 536, commander, W. H. Hartler, 36 men.

Gen. J. B. Sweitzer Post, No. 430, commander A. J. Reed; vice commander, J. A. Friesze, 25 men and drum corps.

Round Head Regiment, in command of James C. Stevenson, 20 men.

Lieut. James M. Lyles Post, No. 128, commander, Thomas G. Sample; vice commander, George Gibson, 200 men and G. A. R. Band of Pittsburgh, Pa.

John W. Geary Post, No. 90—Commander, W. B. Beamer; vice commander, A. J. Gorton; 10 men.

Illinois—Commander Illinois Division, J. M. Tremble; vice commander, J. M. Vernon; U. S. Grant Drum and Fife Corps, 17 pieces.

U. S. Grant Post, No. 28—267 men. Meade Post, No. 44—Commander, H. W. Every; vice commander, J. P. Wood; 50 men.

Stevenson Post, No. 30—Commander, C. F. Miller; vice commander Charles D. Reed; 200 men, with Miss Pearl M. Zerbe as bugler, and a drum corps.

Lyon Post, No. 9—Commander, Martin Larsen; vice commander, James Donohue; 15 men.

Farragut Post, No. 602—Commander, J. J. Powers; vice commander, J. B. Chadwick; 150 men and drum corps.

Weltzell Post, No. 425—Commander, M. B. Craft; vice commander, J. M. Holden; 40 men.

Washington Post, No. 573—Commander, Charles A. Eddy; vice commander, George Halseiden; 37 men, with Ritchie's Band; 20 pieces.

Wisconsin—State commander, James H. Agen.

Eagle Post, No. 52—Commander, C. H. Buffington; vice commander, E. W. Allen; 33 men and drum corps.

H. A. Tate Post, No. 13—Commander, C. W. Gulleford; vice commander, A. S. Brooks; 2 men.

Fairchild Post, No. 11—Commander, George Walton; vice commander, Fred Bond; 20 men.

Fourth Division.

Massachusetts—Commander, Wilmon Blackmar; vice commander, Dwight O. Judd; escort, Post 113, Albert A. Pope, commander, 50 men, Knight's Military Band, Baltimore. Post 30, D. S. Elliott, commander, 40 men; D. C. N. G. Drum Corps; Post 5, C. A. Chapman, commander, 200 men, Washington Light Infantry Band; Post 150, Thomas C. Robins, commander, 15 men; Post 10, George W. Barnes, commander, 100 men, Allen's Bugle Corps; Post 19, Isaac C. Conmug, commander, 50 men; Post 13, George W. Packard, 102 men; Post 15, George C. Winslow, 200 men, Kearsarge Band; Post 16, James L. Bowen, commander, 75 men; Lyceum Drum Corps; Post 66, J. L. Brockway, commander, 30 men; Post 58, John M. Whitcomb, commander, 75 men, Marine Drum Corps; Post 42, Charles Kenlan, commander, 73 men; Post 46, Hugh McGraw, 46 men.

Post 185, J. A. Bartlett, commander, 25 men; Post 75, M. J. Ferrin, commander, 25 men; Post 22, A. McFarland, commander, 25 men.

New Jersey—Enos F. Hann, commander; H. W. Lawrence, vice commander; Post 1, Charles Kenlan, commander, 75 men; Post 3, D. E. Riggins, commander, 100 men, Van Houten Post Band; Post 54, Alonzo B. Searing, commander, 30 men; Post 5, Thomas Holloway, commander, 40 men; Post 4, John Lee, commander, 50 men, drum corps; Post 64, Joseph A. Cannon, commander, 30 men; Post 110, Samuel Dougherty, commander, 80 men; Post 15, David F. Rutan, commander, 50 men; drum corps; Post 11, N. W. Chandler, commander, 104 men, Haley's Band; Post 22, A. Q. McFarland, commander, 25 men; Post 41, John A. Barden, commander, 40 men; Post 8, J. Holden, commander, 75 men, drum corps; Post 32, R. S. Hennahan, commander, 98 men, Twelfth New Jersey Band.

Maine—James M. Merriek, commander; J. H. Foster, vice commander. Mark Hanna Band, Cleveland, O. Posts merged, 300 men.

California and Nevada—W. G. Hawley, commander; J. B. Lauck, acting adjutant general. Ellsworth Post, G. R. Camp, commander, 40 men. Gen. W. R. Shafter was one of the men in line.

Rhode Island—George S. Chennery, commander; J. S. Hudson, vice commander. Post 3, Thomas Leighton, commander, 35 men; Post 25, Henry E. Wood commander, four men; Post 10, John McCurdy, commander, 50 men; Post 5, A. F. Trowbridge, commander, 12 men; Post 17, George W. Winchester, 50 men.

Seventh Division.

Oregon—G. E. Caulkin, past deputy commander; B. F. Pike, Moro Post; Samuel Moore, Post 14, Astoria; J. H. Ingham, Post 7, Eugene; C. A. May, Cushing Post—42 men.

Kentucky—T. F. Beyland, staff commander; assistants, Adjutant General Casey, Minton, Browning, Blaes—115 men.

West Virginia—C. C. Mathews, staff commander; J. W. Sawyer, Meade Post; Daniel Yunko, Colwell Post; H. M. Smith, W. L. Saftred, Dan Frost Post;

right of Oregon resting on B Street northeast.

DEPARTMENT OF THE POTOMAC.

The departments of Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Texas, Idaho, Georgia, Alabama, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and Indian Territory assembled on Delaware Avenue northeast, the right of Tennessee resting on B Street northeast. The department of the Potomac assembled on First Street northwest, the right resting on B Street northwest.

The Secret of a Successful Merchant.

The success of a merchant depends largely upon his ability to please his customers. In order to do so he recommends only articles which are to his knowledge most reliable. In handling medicine this is especially true, as people desire the best preparation on the market and appreciate the recommendation of their druggist. Here is what V. T. Leight, of Hays Springs, Mo., says of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my customers to be second to none on the market. For cough with children there is nothing better." For sale by Henry Evans, 922 F Street northwest, wholesale and retail, and all druggists.

DIED.

POWERS—On Wednesday, October 3, 1902, at 4:10 a. m., MRS. JULIA POWERS, aged thirty-one years. Funeral from her sister's residence, 529 F Street northwest, Friday, October 10, 1902, at 8:30 a. m.

STINEMETZ—Entered into rest on Tuesday, October 7, at 4:35 p. m., BENJAMIN H. STINEMETZ, in the seventy-second year of his age. Notice of funeral later. ml

When in Doubt, Buy at House & Herrmann's Many Special Bargains DURING G. A. R. WEEK.

Don't fail to visit our big establishment.

CASH OR CREDIT. Complete Home Furnishers.

House & Herrmann, 901-903 Seventh Street, Corner of 1 (Eye) Street.

WANDERERS

Travel Thousands of Miles and Find It at Home.

We go about from one place to another in search of something we desire, without success, and finally find it right at home awaiting us. A mining engineer out in Mansfield, Mo., tells of his experience with coffee.

He says, "Up to the year 1898 I had always been accustomed to drinking coffee with my breakfast each morning. In the summer of that year I developed a severe case of nervous prostration and I took several courses of treatment for it in Toronto, Buffalo, and New York city without obtaining any permanent benefit."

"One of the most trying manifestations of the malady was a condition of nervous excitement in which I found myself every day during the forenoon, it never occurred to me to attribute this to coffee until I read an advertisement of yours last fall describing a case similar to my own which had received benefit from the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee. I at once changed my breakfast beverage from Java and Mocha to Postum and the effect was nothing short of marvelous. After using it less than a week I was free from morning attacks and in six months all my nervous symptoms had disappeared."

"I have demonstrated the fact that by following your directions in making Postum Food Coffee anyone can obtain as rich a cup of coffee from Postum as from any of the imported brands, and may rest assured that they will escape the injurious effects of coffee and experience much benefit from the use of Postum." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

MASSACHUSETTS—Commander, Wilmon Blackmar; vice commander, Dwight O. Judd; escort, Post 113, Albert A. Pope, commander, 50 men, Knight's Military Band, Baltimore. Post 30, D. S. Elliott, commander, 40 men; D. C. N. G. Drum

right of Oregon resting on B Street northeast.

DEPARTMENT OF THE POTOMAC.

The departments of Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Texas, Idaho, Georgia, Alabama, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and Indian Territory assembled on Delaware Avenue northeast, the right of Tennessee resting on B Street northeast. The department of the Potomac assembled on First Street northwest, the right resting on B Street northwest.